MESSAGE FROM MANAGING DIRECTOR, ACADEMICS & BUSINESS OPERATIONS: UPDATE TO FACE COVERINGS ORDER

March 10, 2022

Our Provincial Health Officer Dr. Bonnie Henry has announced the end of the face coverings order effective March 11, 12:01 a.m. Beginning tomorrow, masks will no longer be required in indoor public spaces across the province. In step with the provincial health authorities and Simon Fraser University, the Centre for Digital Media views the use of masks as a matter of personal choice on a go forward basis, or until further public health orders are made.

At CDM, we continue to encourage mask use on our campus, and particularly in spaces where we gather in close proximity. Let's continue to be caring, understanding, and compassionate about individual choices as it pertains to the use of protective equipment, and the circumstances of others within our teaching and learning community. We anticipate that many members of our community will continue to prefer to wear masks in indoor spaces.

We have waited for this moment for some time and yet it still seems unusual. Please reflect on the personal decisions you will make as we continue to adapt. Let's continue to prioritize care for others.

Thank you for your past and future contributions to campus safety and wellness.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ted Gervan (he/him) | Managing Director, Academic and Business Operations
